
Q. Cameron, great round of golf. Before we get into the round, I just want to talk about your routine 3 on 18.

CAMERON TRINGALE: Yeah, that was something. I hit a poor drive to the right, had to lay up, then slam dunk right in the bottom. It was a pretty cool way to end.

Q. Do you recall the last time you did that in competition?

CAMERON TRINGALE: No. Straight in like that? My caddie and I were just saying I don't know if I've ever done it, but it sure was cool to do it here at Riviera.

Q. Yeah, fun to watch and fun to watch that go down. Seven birdies and no bogeys, great day, and when you missed you got it up and down?

CAMERON TRINGALE: Yeah, I scrambled well and really got the putter working. I hit it great the first round and didn't hole out much, and today was the same. You know, I drove it great, hit a lot of good iron shots in and made some putts disappear.

Q. Why is it so difficult to get the putter going around here because that's something the players have echoed all week. Is it part and part to the nuances of the green or is it these changing conditions because the days are changing, every 15 minutes it's a different weather pattern?

CAMERON TRINGALE: Well, for me it was something that I figured out practicing Thursday afternoon, just a little change in the setup. But yeah, these are tricky greens, I was fortunate to hole as many as I did and hopefully I can keep making it happen.

Q. So is the game plan rest? I know there might be a little golf still left today, I don't know what the tee times look like, but tomorrow's going to be a long day of golf, so is it important to get some rest and game plan for a day like tomorrow where there's a marathon day of golf, is it just a patience?

CAMERON TRINGALE: Well, let's see how it is once we get out there, but yeah, when it's going to be a long day, as always you've got to kind of be your friend out here and just take it as it comes. That's what I'll plan on doing tomorrow. Get some rest and dinner with some friends and just kind of lay low.

Q. Best round of the day in the second round, at least for Cameron Tringale. How about seven birdies, not a bogey on your card (inaudible.) Walk us through that slam dunk party.

CAMERON TRINGALE: Sure. Well, to get there I hit a slice drive into the right trees and 9-iron to lay up and then I had 82 yards. I was trying to fly it a couple past the hole and it just (inaudible) spin and heard it -- you know, it was right on line, heard it hit the flag, and then when people started going crazy, figured it had gone in. It was a fun way to end.

Q. What were you doing so well today?

CAMERON TRINGALE: Man, I was just playing each shot as it came. There's a lot of tough holes on this course, especially coming in. Mentally I just hit a shot, hit the next one, kept going, but physically I hit it great and got some putts to drop in.

Q. That slam dunk birdie puts you in the final group for what is going to be a tough 36 holes of golf. What's your mentality now?

CAMERON TRINGALE: Just keep doing what I'm doing, trying to have some fun out there and take the day as it comes.
