Q. Ryan, we just saw that great finish you had on a blustery day. You tied the low round with a 5-under 67. What were the keys out there for you?

RYAN MOORE: Patience obviously on a day like today. Didn't get off to the best start, swing didn't feel that great, just kind of had to grind a little bit and kind of find a little key for the day.

Swing started feeling better around kind of 5, 6, 7, through there. Started making some better swings, hitting some better shots and, you know, was just able to put together a round of golf and that's all it was. On a day like today, it's not necessarily about how you're swinging, how you're hitting it, it's how you can just get the ball in the hole. Somehow I managed to do that today.

Q. Bogeyed the first, but six birdies from there. That is some work on a blustery day.

RYAN MOORE: It was. It wasn't the start I wanted, but knew it was going to be a tough day. Just kind of told myself be patient, don't worry about it too much and let's grind out some pars early. I knew it was going to die down a little bit towards the second half of the day, so I was like, let's just fight through this front nine, let's kind of get what we can out of it and who knows. At least those 16, 17, 18 was going to be kind of scorable and downwind, so be patient to that point. Was able to just put together a really scrappy round of golf really.

Q. Coming in the offseason, three really sound rounds yesterday, wasn't your best stuff, what was the key to your work in the offseason?

RYAN MOORE: Not really. My four weeks off, because I exited after the Dell, was just time off really. I didn't do a lot. I think my body and brain just kind of needed a break and I did enough to kind of stay fresh and practice a bit coming up to this.

But I think sometimes you've got to know yourself and know your body and know there's just times when it's better to just keep the clubs in the closet for a few days and just kind of relax and enjoy your family.
