

ABRAHAM ANCER (-20)

Q. How was it? 7 under, happy with the final day?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Yeah, very happy with the great ball-striking day off the tee and my irons. I also putted really well. I only had one bad hole that cost me two strokes there making a double on 13, but I bounced back really, really good, which I'm very proud and showed some heart coming down the stretch.

Q. Where did this round come from? What was working really well?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Like I said, everything was really solid, didn't really make any mistakes, just on 13. Hit it really good off the tee, gave me some good looks on pretty much every hole. I rolled the ball really well coming down the stretch, too.

Q. Being one of the early events in the new season, are you hoping to get yourself a few points for the FedExCup?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Yeah, it's huge. It's always nice to get off to a good start, it's always nice to have a little cushion there with some FedEx points. Yeah, just a boost of confidence and looking forward to the next event.

Q. How was your week here in Malaysia, not just the tournament but away in the city as well? How much fun have you guys had?

ABRAHAM ANCER: I had a great time. It's my first time here in Kuala Lumpur and we had a great time. CIMB and PGA TOUR and Asian Tour, they do a great job with this event. I'm looking forward to coming back next year. I had a blast, the food was great and people were nice, so we had a good time.

Q. Sets you up for next week as well?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Yeah, I'm going to Korea, which is the first time that I'm going there, too, so I'm looking forward to that as well.

Q. Obviously with a nice result here, looking at a top-3, nice way to keep the form going for Korea?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Yeah, that's the idea, keep grinding and finish up there as high as I can.
