Q: Today's performance was the best so far. What are your thoughts on today's round?

SI WOO KIM: The start of the round was not really good. I was feeling the pressure and wasn't really playing the game at my pace. But the birdie on hole 5 was a turning point. My feel for the game came back and I think I played well. For the past three days the latter part of my game went well so I was able to look forward to the next day. I hope tomorrow I can focus on the game from the beginning and have a good start to the round.

Q: How as the putter today?

SI WOO KIM: My shots didn't really work out today, but I think my putting was good.

Q: The weather is getting better after each round. What is your game plan going into the final round?

SI WOO KIM: Right now, rather than focus on winning, I just want to play well. If there are strong winds tomorrow and if I play really well, I might have a chance. But at this moment my chances don't look too bright. So I'm actually hoping that the weather is a bit worse tomorrow. If the other players save a lot of shots, than it's going to be harder for me to catch up, so I'm hoping the weather plays out to my advantage. I just want to focus on my game and end the tournament in the top 10, possibly top 5.

Q: A word to all your fans out there?

SI WOO KIM: There are so many great players playing in the tournament. I saw many fans cheering on many different players. I think I was able to finish the latter part of the round with a better score because my fans and the people of Jeju were cheering me on. I hope many fans will come out to the course and show their support for the players.
