

FINAL ROUND INTERVIEW
November 18, 2018

J.J. SPAUN (-10)
BIRDIES FORE LOVE

Q. First of all, congratulations on a great fall season, so much so to finish in second place in the Birdies Fore Love competition. $150,000 to the charity of your choice. What does that mean to you?

J.J. SPAUN: It means a lot. I mean, just to show that not only can this tour make a difference, but I individually can make a difference for a charity of my choice. Good golf rewards everyone and I'm really happy to be able to donate this gift on my behalf.

Q. We talked to Joel Dahmen a little bit ago. He said you two were playing together a little bit earlier this week and there may or may not have been a little bit of banter about these birdie totals. Anything you can share about your conversations that you had this week with him?

J.J. SPAUN: Yeah, I think I was trying to get in his head a little bit because I wanted to donate the most out of anyone, but hats off to him wherever he finished. It's just a great cause and I'm super excited to be able to do this.

Q. Great. And I think lastly, your fall season in general you played some real great rounds. Kind of how are you feeling with your game at this point in the season?

J.J. SPAUN: Yeah, it's feeling good. My game kind of always does well in the fall for some reason the last couple years. I think it's just the rotation I like with these courses we get to play. There's a lot of confidence when I go into the fall swing and it's nice to get a head start on the season and also pick up the check for Birdies Fore Love.
