

ROUND 1 INTERVIEW
July 4, 2019

BRIAN HARMAN (-6)

Q. Nicely done on this Fourth of July, 6-under par 65. New golf course. How was it for you out there?

BRIAN HARMAN: I found it very enjoyable today. Today at least. I think it's a great golf course. They lengthened a few of the holes. Some of the holes are really demanding off the tee. It's got a good mix of long par 3s and some good par 5s.

Q. You've actually won on a golf course that was not a regular event or not a regular course on the PGA TOUR at the Wells Fargo Championship. What's the key for you when you come to a new venue?

BRIAN HARMAN: I think it helps me just because I don't really have any expectations of what's going to happen and so I just kind of play my game and I usually do pretty well my first time around a place.

Q. Obviously it hasn't been a great year for you, you're inside the Top 125. What have you struggled with and what's sort of starting to come around for you?

BRIAN HARMAN: I've struggled with having two kids is what I've struggled with. Yeah, I wouldn't trade them for the world, but it's certainly an adjustment. Anyone that says otherwise I don't think is being honest.

I just haven't played very good golf and, you know, it kind of happened fast. I had a chance to make the Ryder Cup last year and then all of a sudden I kind of get behind the eight-ball in the FedExCup and I'm kind of scrambling around. But I kind of hit bottom and started kind of clawing my way back. I've been playing some really good golf, I just haven't gotten much out of it lately.

Q. You kind of used the phrase "clawing your way back." Not a bad way to start with a 6-under 65 today. Just a few comments on what was going right?

BRIAN HARMAN: Yeah, I've been hitting it really well and haven't been making any putts. I holed some nice putts today, so it was nice to get that part of my game going. I've got to putt well to contend usually, so it's nice to have it going.
