

EMILIANO GRILLO (-14)

Q. Emiliano, you were playing well up until the delay, obviously six hours. How do you kind of handle that when you're off for so long?

EMILIANO GRILLO: Yeah, obviously it's tough, but look, I handle -- I thought I handled it pretty well. We had, what, five hour wait, more, something. Yeah, it's really tough, especially you're hoping to come back and keep playing the same way and obviously it didn't happen. I'm pleased the way I handled, I'm pleased the way I closed the round. Just a couple bad reads there, a few putts I left it short, a couple missed drivers, but like I say, it's hard coming back after waiting so long.

Q. When you birdied the last, does that give you some help? And obviously Scott bogeys it, so you get a two-shot swing there heading into tomorrow knowing the lead isn't seven, it's only four.

EMILIANO GRILLO: Yeah, I was hoping for a three, but he didn't let it go. I think that was his only bogey of the day and it came off from a bad swing from the fairway, but he putted really well. It was definitely -- it definitely helps, makes my job a little bit easier tomorrow, so I know I just need to go out and play my best and try to catch him.

Q. Playing at a course where lows scores are out there, does that make a four-shot deficit seem smaller or maybe bigger in that you know Scott's not really going to come back to you?

EMILIANO GRILLO: I don't know. Like I say, he played phenomenal today. If he brings half of his game from today to tomorrow, that's going to be very tough. Obviously you're looking at a very low round tomorrow to have a chance, but I'm just going to go out and try to have fun and like I say, try to play my best.

Q. What do you do during the delay like that when you're not entirely sure how long it's going to be, not sure if you're going to head back on the course or if you have two more hours to wait?

EMILIANO GRILLO: Well, they were very kind and they gave us three hours of wait, so I went to the hotel, laid down a little bit, called my family and just relaxed. There's nothing you can do. I got ready to play at 2:00. And it's worse after when you get a long break, then you just go and you can plan, but when it's every 30 minutes, you're just sitting there and waiting, waiting, waiting, and I think that's the tough part.

Q. Ever play with a guy that's walked around barefoot as much as he did?

EMILIANO GRILLO: I mean, I don't know. I mean, actually it's funny, on Thursday I played with -- who did I play with -- Nate Lashley, he had some foot issues and had the caddie going to change shoes, brought running shoes, now this guy has some issues.

Q. Were you guys joking about it in the group?

EMILIANO GRILLO: No, I was just giving advice what to do, how to burn it, but I don't think it's going to work. He'll be fine, he'll be fine. He handled it very well.
