

ROUND 4 INTERVIEW
November 13, 2022

BEN TAYLOR (-11)

Q. Ben, how would you characterize the week?

BEN TAYLOR: Accomplished. I mean, now I've put myself in contention at a PGA TOUR event, and I think with how well Tony played today, I think I handled everything pretty solid. I mean, it was a shame not to take the second place there, that was kind of all we were playing for halfway through the round, but it could have easily gone the other way. I wanted to give myself a couple looks coming in to see if I could catch Tyson and we did, so super happy. It was a very consistent, solid week considering the weather that was thrown at us, so very happy.

Q. With this being your best finish on the PGA TOUR, what will you take from that going forward that's going to help you as the season goes along?

BEN TAYLOR: Yeah, it's huge. I mean, even Justin Rose there, who was giving me some advice on the golf course, the result is there now, right? So now we know that it's doable, it's not a dream anymore. I'm still living my dream, but it's not overly ambitious to know I could be in contention in these tournaments, so that's awesome. I'm off to a good start this fall, which is obviously very important. Now we can figure out how to hit the next step and enjoy the process going forwards.

Q. One last question. You just mentioned Justin Rose, you being from England, how cool was it to play with him? Did he give you any advice? I'm sure you watched him growing up.

BEN TAYLOR: Yeah, I didn't tell him this, but he's one of my couple of role models growing up. It's funny playing with him last group in a Tour event, which is cool for me. I think I sort of handled that situation pretty well. It was nice to play with him. I mean, look, it was beyond my wildest expectations to be playing in the last group with Justin Rose. It was nice to play with him. I know he didn't have his best day, but what a class act that guy is. I mean, if you want the picturesque ambassador for the PGA TOUR, he's got to be right up there. So it was a privilege to play with him, it was nice to beat him and hopefully I'll get to play with him again in the future.
