
Q. Harris, how satisfied are you with that round? I know coming in here the form probably hasn't been what you've been looking for, so it's got to be pretty satisfying. What's changed for you?

HARRIS ENGLISH: Yeah, definitely grinded on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday out here. It's mainly just been ball-striking, just not hitting it great off the tee and not putting myself in good positions. Felt like I found something kind of on Tuesday afternoon and stuck with the plan today and drove it a lot better. When you drive it well around here, you can have a lot of short irons in, and I feel like I'm a good short iron player and putted well. I kind of did everything well today. It was nice to feel like I was playing golf again.

Q. What did you find on Tuesday, or are you not willing to share that?

HARRIS ENGLISH: Yeah, I mean, probably since I was 12 or 13 years old, it's all my takeaway. When it gets off, it gets way off. It's just this game can be so simple and so tough sometimes, but it feels like when you find something like that, you can stick with it and it feels like it has before when I've been playing well. It just takes a couple shots and you start hitting it well and can build on it.

Q. Six birdies and a bogey, but the birdies came in groups of three at the start of each nine. Is there one of those that sort of sticks out better than the others from your perspective?

HARRIS ENGLISH: No. 12 was a really good birdie. I hit my driver a little right on that hole, hit the tree, came back in the fairway. But I had 259 to the hole, so I hit 3-wood up there to about three feet, probably one of the better shots I've hit in a long time. But 12 is one of the tougher holes on this golf course, so starting out birdieing 10, birdieing 11, birdieing 12 was definitely a jump start for the day.

Q. So you played late today, earlier tomorrow. Do you like that, playing late, then early, the turnaround, or would you prefer to have a little bit more time, or how do you look upon that?

HARRIS ENGLISH: Yeah, when you're playing well you like to have that quick turnaround. Will be heading back, quick dinner tonight, back here probably a couple hours before my tee time and get ready to roll. It's nice to have fresh greens. It will be a little cooler in the morning, but see if I can keep the momentum going.
